President's Message

Happy fall, y'all!

The weather in these first few weeks of fall has been awesome. The leaves are turning, and my desire to be outside is shortened to the few hours at midday when it's warmest. I'm not a fan of pumpkin spice other than in pumpkin pie, but the fragrance is very warm and appealing.

I'm turning my thoughts to the upcoming holidays and projects that have taken a back seat to my flower beds, hiking, and travel. I recently found three quilt tops in my UFO cabinet—they even had backs, and one had the binding ready! I had that one for nearly 9 years! Tell me I'm not alone… Of the other two, one was collecting dust for 2 years and one sat for 2 months. They are all off to the quilter! I'm proud of myself, while being a bit embarrassed. My current UFO project started in August 2025: a pixel quilt with 2,233 pieces ranging from 1.25" to 6" squares. What was I thinking?

You may have heard that we have increased the number of quilts you can turn in for the 2027 quilt show and beyond. Members may submit 10 entries in addition to the challenge, theme, workshops, collaborations, and collections. Get busy, people!

Since my term is up at the end of the year, I look forward to focusing my volunteer efforts in other areas until the housing market turns around, and then it's off to Entiat to be near the grandkids.

I hope you all have a wonderful holiday season. I look forward to seeing you all at the meetings, so please come up and say hello!

Best regards,

Renee Grabiec

Call for President, Secretary

It's time to elect new folks to the positions of President and Secretary. Please step up to take one of these important positions – we can't run the Guild without them! Job descriptions can be found here on our website. Voting will take place at the December member meetings.

Upcoming programs

At November's guild meetings, there will potentially be a presentation on the new women's shelter and their request for quilts.

December will bring our well-attended annual business meeting and holiday party. The December meetings will be held at their usual times, on December 21. But the morning meeting will be held at the Richland Public Library; please bring potluck food (food "assignments" below). The evening meeting will be held at the White Bluffs Quilt Museum; please bring dessert.

The Threads That Bind Us — March 2027 Quilt Show Update

Things are going great as we plan, organize, and prepare for the Tri-City Quilters' Guild 43rd Quilt Show in March 2027! Excitement is building as we work together to bring another wonderful show to the quilting community.

This year, we're planning for even more beautiful quilts on display! To encourage greater participation, we've increased the entry limits. Guild members may now enter up to 10 quilts, not including theme, challenge, workshop, and collection/collaboration items. We've also increased the entry limit for non-members to welcome even more quilts and quilters to our show.

We have a couple of workdays planned to help keep preparations moving forward. These will be great opportunities for members to come together, lend a hand, and help bring our vision to life!

We're still looking for members who would like to demonstrate their quilting or sewing skills during the show! Demonstrations are a wonderful way to share your knowledge, inspire fellow quilters, and introduce visitors to the many creative techniques in our quilting community. If you have a skill or technique you'd enjoy sharing, please consider volunteering! Please let our Demo Divas Laurel Sutton and Kate Gievers know asap!

I would like to invite you to help me with my show decorating committee. Contact me for information

With so much creativity and talent in our guild, we're looking forward to showcasing the amazing work of our members and fellow quilters. Thank you to everyone contributing their time, talents, and enthusiasm to make this year's show a success!

Gwen Mangelson
Quilt Show Chairperson 2027

P.S.: Many of you may not know about the Convention Center Expansion. I am sharing a blurb from their website and including the site link so you can see a visual of where we will be.

A Look Ahead

The Three Rivers Convention Center is undergoing an exciting expansion that will provide additional space and new possibilities for future events. You can learn more about the project here:

Three Rivers Convention Center Expansion

2027 raffle quilts

Here are the three raffle quilts for the 2027 show:

Quilt #1 Star Bed Quilt 83" x 83"

Quilt #2 Lap Quilt 61" x 61"

Quilt #3 Butterfly Baby Quilt 47" x 47"

Get Ready, Quilt Registration Starts on January 1st

Our 2027 quilt show will be here before you know it and the most important thing for members to do is get their quilts registered. We will be in the new Great Hall at the Three Rivers Convention Center with much more room for show entries and vendors. The board has decided to increase the number of quilts that can be registered.

- Members will be allowed 10 quilts and an unlimited number of theme, challenge, workshop, and collection/collaboration entries.
- Non-members will be allowed 5 total entries.

Get your information lined up so you can get them entered as soon registration opens on January 1st at 12:01AM. With a larger venue, we hope to have the biggest show ever!

Unique Boutique news

It's time to start thinking about putting some of the fun things you've made in our Unique Boutique. We would love to see quilts and more: bowl cozies, embroidered sweatshirts, tote bags, pin cushions, and the ever-popular hot pads. All of you with embroidery machines, this would be a great chance to show your creativity – Gayla W

TCQG 2027 Challenge

It's not too late to start your Guild Challenge, Livin' on the Dry Side.

Rules:

- Must be a current TCQG member to submit an entry.
- Entry must depict some aspect of living on the eastern side of Washington state, aka "the Dry Side".
- Maximum perimeter is 150".
- Must be made with fabric, quilted, with finished edges (binding, facing, etc.).
- Embellishments are encouraged.

Think:

- Scenic
- Thematic

MUST BE REGISTERED to enter it in the show.

Questions? Contact Julie Moore, or Jodi Hassell at 509-378-2586.

Demo volunteers wanted…

to share their thread expertise! Any and all phases of quilting, but also any and all phases of our other sewing-adjacent fiber hobbies! Topics so far: binding, sashiko, ruler quilting, paper piecing, English paper piecing, hand quilting, appliqué, machine embroidery on cards. Think about sharing a part of your passion for 30-45 minutes!

Future raffle quilt news

A Raffle Quilt Committee has been established with the desired goal of producing raffle quilts for the 2028 quilt show and beyond. Three ideas have been chosen for 2028.

The first one was introduced at the October meeting. It is a Lemoyne Star variation using 2" finished HST (half square triangles) and 2" finished squares. We are requesting the background HST and squares to be white on white, ivory on ivory, cream on cream, beige on beige… and the contrast colors to be your choice, but no black please. We are using 2" "Triangles on a Roll" for the HST (please press the seams open), and the squares will be cut with the AccuQuilt tools. These methods are recommended but not mandatory. We are planning working parties so if you want to donate your background scraps that would be appreciated too.

The second quilt is Bears in the Cabin (bear paw and log cabin). We are calling for woven plaids, aka homespun plaids, in lights and darks. And the third quilt is Baskets in the Garden (baskets and flowers) with more info to follow.

Starting in January we will be staying after the morning guild meetings at Hillspring to gather fabrics, choose colors, arrange blocks, come up with new ideas, and check in with progress reports. If you would like to join us, we would be delighted to have you.

Community Service News

We are having a banner year with the number of quilts being delivered. Fifty-one quilts were turned in in September and 18 in October. These quilts brought our total for the year to 351.

We still have a huge back log of tops that need backing, batting and to be quilted. Most are of a size that can be done on a domestic machine. Please consider taking one or two quilt bundles to quilt. If you can't make a meeting to pick up quilt bundles you can contact me, quilterathart@yahoo.com or 509-528-9281 and I will get the bundle to you.

The Union Gospel Mission has asked us to make quilts for their women's shelter that they are raising money for. They want twin-bed size, 70" x 90". If there is enough interest in a group to work on this I will lead it. We would meet at White Bluffs on Tuesday afternoon. If interested you can contact me at the above contact information.

Cyndy

Help wanted!

The Be There/Be Square projects want to show up in a collection at the quilt show. Will You Be My Neighbor? and Bluebirds of Happiness are pieced and ready for backs/bats/quilting/binding. However: hearts and 16-patches have fallen into my UFO cavern, and trees will be coming in! Sarah Orr has volunteered to help design and piece on Tuesday November 17 from 1 to whenever at White Bluffs Quilt Museum. If you're interested but the timing is not right for you, please email. I have to take December off, but we'll see what we can cook up in the new year…

Laurel, coversincolors@yahoo.com

Thank you from the Chaplaincy

The guild received the following thank you note from Natalie Rose Huggins, Volunteer Services Supervisor at the Chaplaincy:

> Dear Cyndy & members of the Tri-Cities Quilters Guide, [sic]
> Thank you for the beautiful quilts that you made for hospice patients. Sooo thoughtful of you to include patriotic fabric in making of quilts for patients who are veterans of the armed services. All of the quilts will be treasured by hospice patients.
> Please save the date…the afternoon of Tuesday, November 10th. Tri-Cities Chaplaincy will be hosting a Flag Raising Ceremony and reception honoring veterans for their service. We would love it if you could attend. More details will follow soon. Gratefully, Natalie Huggins

The Get a Round TUIT Declutter Challenge

The Get a Round TUIT Declutter Challenge will help you declutter your sewing area one category at a time, one month at a time. Of course, we will accept any donation from the list below during any month, but items donated during the designated month will help us with the sorting process.

ANY MONTH Fabric (cotton, non-cotton, precuts, fat quarters, panels, scraps)
Jun Books and Patterns (quilt, crochet, knitting/cross stitch, etc.)
Jul Embellishments/Notions (ribbon, buttons, beads, thread, bias binding, elastic)
Aug Tools (scissors, rulers, cutting mats, rotary cutters, knitting needles)
Sep Batting (batting scraps, foundation, fusible, interfacing)
Oct UFOs (kits, quilt tops, finished quilts)
Nov Knitting & Crochet (yarn, thread)
Dec Other Craft Supplies (stamps, paper crafts, plastic canvas, etc.)
Jan Miscellaneous (working sewing machines, sergers)
Feb Storage (bins, baskets, organizers)

We will not accept non-working sewing machines, large items such as looms, magazines, or dolls. If you, or someone you know, has a large donation, please text Elaine Brouillard at 509-551-2355 or Linda Glaman at 509-539-2771 to make arrangements. We meet at 1 pm at the White Bluffs Quilt Museum, 294 Torbett Street, Richland on the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Thursday of the month. We will be expanding the meeting times of the TCQG small group Quilters of the Round TUIT to include the first Monday of the month starting in January. Donations are also accepted at all guild meetings. All guild members are welcome to help sort. All scraps are free to the workers and you may pay for those items you want to buy the day you sort.

Please fold fabric from selvage to selvage and then again from selvage to the fold. Measure the fabric and safety pin the information on the fabric. Wrap the fabric around a 6½-inch ruler. Thank you again for your donation. It is one of many income streams needed to pay for the March Quilt Show.

We are looking for a two-person team who will drive the U-Haul trucks for our committee. Please call us for information. Thank you!

Novel News from Marianne Fons

Marianne Fons has written her first novel, The Dressmaker of Winterset.

"Lessons in Chemistry meets The Scarlet Letter in an homage that places Hester in 1950s small-town Iowa instead of seventeenth century Boston. She steps off the Trailways bus in Winterset on a summer day in 1956, a wedding band on her finger, but no husband in sight. She lands a job at the town's best dress shop, and at church on Sunday, her beauty captivates Arthur Hightower, First Methodist's unmarried junior pastor."

Nancy's quilt That Town and Country Quilt received "3rd Place" in her quilt category from the guild.

Jodi's quilt Let Freedom Ring received two ribbons: "3rd Place" in her quilt category from the guild, and "Best of Category" (Wall Hanging, Large) for Excellence in Machine Quilting from Inland Northwest Machine Quilters.

Wedding vows — from Sandy Blake

My son Ryan married his intended wife Caelen in June 2026. My daughter Sarah was the officiant. My kids know my love of creating art through fabric is a huge part of who I am. How they wove it into the vows was an honor for sure. I hope sharing this might make someone else's day as it did mine on 6/20/26.

So… in my quest for a short metaphor of marriage for you both today, I would be remiss if I didn't mention, if it's not already known by those gathered here today, that our (Ryan and I) mother is a quilter. In fact, I'm sure she has her travel sewing machine packed in her purse in case there is a spare moment today.

What we have both learned from our mother is that quilting is a labor of love, of careful planning and measurement, but also of surrender… those moments when you realize your fabric is backwards or somehow inside out. The seam ripper comes out, and with it the opportunity to start anew, to retry, to learn, and to grow together.

Just as important as the construction of a quilt is its design. What story should be told and represented in each square, each small block contributing to a greater whole. The geometric shapes, colors, and patterns pieced together become a kind of visual language, a way of telling the multi-generational stories of families and communities. As people gather to create, they ask themselves: What defines us? What is most essential to who we are? Which symbols, colors, and patterns can best represent our shared values?

Ryan and Caelen, I ask you (rhetorically), how would you choose to design your quilt block today? What imagery comes to mind when you think about the foundation of your relationship?

These individual blocks will be constructed in the small moments and memories you've shared together - your first apartment, a broken Stubbies glass, your walks to the coffee shop that is also a shoe store, and, of course, Mo and Arrow…

My hope for you both is a lifetime of creativity in your relationship, shaped by incredibly rich and momentous occasions, as well as the small, quiet, and everyday experiences. As one spool of thread ends, and another begins, you'll have the opportunity to design as you go, together.

To the friends and family here today, I ask how you have shaped the story of Ryan and Caelen. We, as witnesses, play an important role in supporting Ryan and Caelen throughout their marriage and journey of being deeply human. We are also active designers and collaborators in the construction of their quilt, offering unwavering support through friendship, guidance, and feedback if their color scheme starts to veer off course.

Universe willing, it is our hope today that Ryan and Caelen will step back in 50 years to see this beautiful tapestry, perfectly soft and well-worn, that honors their marriage; slowly stitched together year after year by choosing a love, every day, that is patient, simple, and deeply rooted in the community that surrounds them. ♦

QUILT MUSEUM

Upcoming Classes:

Ho! Ho! Ho! Let It Snow!
Sat Nov 7 from 9:30 to 3:30
$25 plus $15 kit (to instructor)

Debbi Trevino has permission to share this out-of-print pattern, so you can fashion a festive banner or table runner. You will be piecing, appliquéing with fusible and machine stitching, and learning simple motifs for machine quilting.

The kit includes pattern and embellishments.

Tool Caddy
Fri Nov 13 from 10 to 4
$40 plus $10 kit (to instructor)

Linda Glaman has engineered a clever container using a book end for all of your sewing tools that you can store by your side. Both sides will give you plenty of storage for your cutting tools, rulers, and handy notions.

Upcoming Events:

Black Friday Sale
Fri Nov 27, Sat Nov 28 from 9 to 4

Shop our traditional fundraiser, where merch from Museum members and friends is priced to sell (and reduced by half on Saturday). Previously-loved books, yarn, sewing, and crafting supplies can help your hobbying as you hibernate over the winter!

Annual Holiday Open House and Annual Meeting
Saturday Dec 5 from 1 to 3

Enjoy an afternoon of refreshments, reports, games, and prizes. The Museum has notched a series of "firsts" in 2026; find out what is in store for 2027 – its twentieth anniversary!

Winter Shop Hop
Thu Jan 21 through Sun Jan 31

New quilt shops in the region are now on the itinerary! To accommodate travel to our outlying hosts – who keep their usual hours – we have added three weekdays to the schedule. Passports – still only $10 – will be available after Thanksgiving at the Museum and at participating stores. First and second prizes ($20 and $10 gift certificates from ALL retailers) require that you visit everybody; partially completed passports are eligible for lesser prizes. Date and time for the wrap-up event is TBD.
